Game Over

When the weight of the world population (a power of 80% or greater) moves counter to its true north position on the CHD Moral Compass – Spirituality – it will collapse on itself.

We human beings have exceeded that critical value as measured by “The Performance Appraisal Indicator (PAI) – Your Blueprint for Personal, Professional and Spiritual Empowerment ‘PLAY’ Book.”

This collapse has already begun to take place as evident by civil unrest throughout our world marked by disaster after disaster. The response that is often given to these disasters that are now reaching the cataclysmic level is, “we did not see it coming.”

Obviously, we have lost our spiritual acuity and have become mind blind to the powerful influence of the infamous streets. We have turned a blind eye to the indiscretions of our world and the spiritual laws that guide spiritual behavior to the hoopla of social and societal flaws all under the auspice of love.

Well, God is Love and I am certain that God is not okay with that word being used to make concessions regarding His signature design (human beings) expressed as “opposites of equal proportions of power that bilaterally manifest a third power of one.”

We are all one with God because we were made in His image. Case in point – we are all a third power of one, a product of two, which in turn created you. This design is as simple as 1,2,3, and it stands as the heart of God’s Love – His children. We don’t mess with God’s children and that is exactly what we adults are doing.

The world has seen better days and they are not getting any better. We are now on the verge of destruction and imminent annihilation. Since disaster is the one variable that tends to get our attention and ultimately bring us all together, I do not foresee any recovery when this game is over.

This is not my call. This is a calling from a “Higher Source” and He is way above my PLAY grade.
