

Corporate Health Dynamics (CHD) Street Therapy

“The Game”

The world is collapsing on itself as wildfires, wars, sickness and mayhem proliferate throughout the world. Billions of people are falling ill on every continent of the globe in spite of medical and pharmaceutical intervention.

Mass shootings, technological obsession, and political upheaval dominate the media with no end in sight. The Game of Life is to end all strife. However, of all of the advances that we have made in science and technology, and the ontology of religiosity why do we, as a society, continue to struggle with civil injustice?

The definitive answer: science and technology. The frightening truth: it's not the youth who are destroying the world; it's the adults. Adults play The Game of Life in terms of dominance over others such as in game theory – winners over losers. However, the ultimate expression of human performance is play. Play puts us all on the same playing field and at the spiritual level where we all play as a team of one with God.

In play we are either all winners or we are all losers, meaning we come together in the spirit of play instead of the atrocities of dismay. Play is a game that was designed by God. Since we were made in God's image (as illustrated by the CHD model), play encourages us to all hold hands, where we form a circle using any amount of numbers except for the number one. As one, God holds our hands to “create” the circle of life. When others let go, God holds on – we are all one with God.

Only the human being falls victim to the powerful influence of the infamous streets (PIOTIS) and becomes indoctrinated into a world that is diluted, polluted and convoluted (weak, corrupt and confused). Street influence serves as a confounding variable that represents a population with conflicting values, interpretations and ideologies that do not support the CHD model; it distorts the CHD model.

At the Street level (the material world), we lose our spiritual acuity with God and require a therapeutic intervention by God Almighty. Therapy confluence serves as a restorative variable that represents a population where most, if not all people, come together in support of the CHD model. This makes the CHD model the key to our invincibility and Street Therapy the simple solution to our evolution – the biggest game in town, hands down.

In order to master The Game (CHD Street Therapy) it has to be played in God's name, and in high enough numbers in order to make it a game changer for advancing the evolution of human potential in every aspect of our lives. Since only God's influence is therapeutic, the objective of The Game is to: Get the therapy and experience the clarity in spiritual health, healing and prosperity.

What this proposition suggests is that our life, business, health and happiness will gain added value to the tune of unlimited wealth, perfect health and the re-creation of our spiritual self. Therefore, our objective throughout life is to end all strife and that comes from restoring our spiritual selves to wholeness and to become one with God Almighty just like the day we were born.

When we put The Game into play we do not use our mind, we use our imagination. This is because when we use our imagination; there can be no limitations. Inasmuch, there is no force greater than the power of God when we are at play – enjoy The Game!

Playfully yours,

Oliver Rhodes, M.S., CHD, USN Retired
Certified Playologist, Leadership Dynamics Specialist
Inspirational Speaker, Author
oliver@streetherapy.com
www.streetherapy.com

